BRAZIL: Capital: BRASILIA - NO PHASE

PHASE I: is in effect for the city of Rio de Janeiro. In recent weeks, violent clashes between armed gangs and the police forces have occurred in Rio de Janeiro. In some cases, public buses have been set on fire and armed roadblocks have been set up by the armed gangs. Federal troops have been sent to the city of Rio de Janeiro to provide additional security. In addition, there has been an increase in armed robberies on the routes from the international airport to the Southern Zone (Copacabana, Ipanema & Leblon). Visitors are more vulnerable to such incidents due to their lack of local knowledge and experience. As a result, all visitors and UN staff are advised to make prior transportation arrangements with their receiving organization for travel from the International Airport to their hotels. Avoid traveling by night on Linha Vermelha (Red Line), which is the expressway that links the International Airport to the Southern Zone. The same applies to Linha Amarela (Yellow Line), which links the International Airport to Barra da Tijuca and Avenida Brasil for further connections to the downtown area and the suburbs. If you arrive at the International Airport during the hours of darkness, consider spending the night at the airport hotel. While in Rio de Janeiro, give preference to registered radio taxis for transportation as they are considered the safest, or ask advice from your hotel concierge. If feasible, do not use public transportation (buses), especially in the suburbs. Avoid the proximity of "favelas" (shanty towns). For further information contact your agency representative in country or the UN Security Officer.

Staff traveling to Brazil should read the Security tips, specified for the main Brazilian cities, published on the website www.undss.bvs.br. Please note that, effective 1 January 2007, all Security Clearance requests for travel to Brazil must be submitted via the online Security Clearance and Tracking System (ISECT), which can be accessed via the DSS travel portal (<https://dss.un.org>) at least one week prior to the proposed travel.

EGYPT: Capital: CAIRO - PHASE I

PHASE I: is in effect for the overwhelming majority of the country.

PHASE II: is in effect in the Halal Mountain area in north-central Sinai, as well as along the Israel-Egypt border from the point of the intersection of the southern tip of Gaza (Palestinian Authority), Israel and Egypt to 10 kilometers north of the town of Taba on the Gulf of Aqaba. Egypt was formerly considered reasonably safe for visitors. The Taba suicide bombings of October 2004; Khan Al Khalili suicide bombing of April 2005; suicide bombing at Tahrir Square and armed attack on a tourist bus near The Citadel of April 2005; three Sharm Al Sheik suicide bombings of July 2005; and August 2005 improvised explosive device (IED) attack on the Multinational Force and Observers (MFO), are clearly cause for elevated concern. With the exception of the MFO attack, all of these bombings targeted tourists. UN staff is advised to apply special caution and vigilance when visiting areas in Egypt where tourists congregate. In addition to the above-mentioned attacks, in April of 2006 there were five confirmed suicide bombings in Dahab and north Sinai as well. These attacks were directed against tourists, the MFO and local police forces. More recently, the Lebanon/Israel crisis created a spike in the number of protests and demonstrations in Cairo. A recent statement made by the Pope also resulted in protests. Finally, the cities in Upper Egypt: Assiut, Minya, Sohag, Qena and the surrounding villages are considered areas of security concern. Travelers are advised to take precautionary measures during their visits to these regions. Internationally-recruited staff members with contracts exceeding six months are required by the Security Management Team to attend a Security Advisor (SA) briefing within 72 hours of arrival. UN staff members visiting Egypt on holiday are advised to notify the SA of their presence and whereabouts at dss.egypt@undp.org. Official UN missions that lack agency representation locally are requested to contact the Office of the SA for copies of the Visitor Security Briefing, and to acquire internal security clearance if subsequently traveling outside of the greater Cairo metropolitan area.

Security clearance requests should be made at least one week prior to travel via ISECT. Security clearances granted for Egypt by the SA are only valid for the greater Cairo metropolitan area. Internal security clearances are approved by heads of agency with the exception of designated Phase II areas, which must be approved by the SA or DO. After 28 February 2007, the "Advanced Security in the Field" (ASITF) certification will become mandatory for all UN system staff members and associated personnel working in or traveling to a location designated as Security Phase I or higher. This will be, of course, in addition to the existing mandatory "Basic Security in the Field" (BSITF) certification requirement.

LEBANON: Capital: BEI RUT - PHASE II

PHASE II is in effect for the North of the Litani River and the Tyre Pocket.

MEXICO: Capital: MEXICO CITY - PHASE I

PHASE I: is in effect in Mexico City (Federal District), the city of Oaxaca of Juárez and in the States of Guerrero, Michoacán, Sinaloa and Tamaulipas. Crime in Mexico continues at high levels and is often violent; it is advisable for all visitors to be alert and take basic precautionary measures. All persons visiting Mexico City should only use taxis from the authorized taxi stands ("taxi de sitio") at the airport and throughout the city, or authorized hotel taxis. DO NOT take taxis in the streets; there is high rate of express kidnappings in taxis. At the airport, travelers must only use the authorized taxis (white and yellow taxis with an airplane logo on its sides); the ticket booths are located in the airport terminal before travelers clear customs and in the airport lobby. Due to the high incidents of robberies and kidnappings in front of ATM machines, it is highly advisable to use only ATM machines in banks. Travel outside cities after dark is not recommended, if necessary use highways with toll ("cuota"). Public security forces are not exempt from corruption. Cellular phone coverage outside the major cities is limited. Due to the level and frequency of criminal activity arising from disputes among drug cartels, caution and personal security awareness are recommended whenever traveling to the States of Michoacán, Sinaloa, Tamaulipas and Guerrero.

Please note that, effective 1 January 2007, all Security Clearance requests for travel to areas in Phase One or higher must be submitted via the online Security Clearance and Tracking System (ISECT), which can be accessed via the DSS Travel Portal (<https://dss.un.org>) at least one week prior to the proposed travel.

RUSSIAN FEDERATION: Capital: MOSCOW - NO PHASE

PHASE III: is in effect for the most of the territory of Stavropol Krai including Stavropol City; the Republic of North Ossetia-Alania including Vladikavkaz; the Republic of Karachaevo-Cherkessia; the Republic of Kabardino-Balkaria.

PHASE IV: is in effect for the Chechen Republic; Kurskoi district (neighbouring the Chechen Republic) and Budyonnovsky, Levokumsky , Neftekumsky, Stepnovsky districts (neighbouring the Republic of Dagestan) of Stavropol Krai; the Republic of Ingushetia and the Republic of Dagestan.

Staff members traveling to or via Moscow should contact the UNDSS office for a security briefing. Mr. Kovvuri C. Reddy is the Chief Security Advisor to the Russian Federation. Due to the significant threats to and risks faced by UN staff members in the North Caucasus region, stringent security measures have been implemented including 24-hour static armed guards and mobile security escorts. UN staff traveling on mission to the North Caucasus should coordinate their travel through their agency's office in the Russian Federation (In absence of local agency representation, this should be done through the OCHA office in Moscow). From 1 January 2007 it is mandatory for all UN system staff members and associated personnel working or traveling to a location designated as Security Phase I or above to attest the successful completion of the Advanced Security in the Field CD-ROM (the course is available on the DSS Website - <https://dss.un.org/>).

All UN staff traveling to any Republic in the North Caucasus under a UN Security Phase must submit a written security clearance request by e-mail to Mr. Marco Borsotti, UN Designated Official (marco.borsotti@undp.org), the with copies to Mr. K.C. Reddy, CSA, UNDSS RF (reddyk@un.org), Mr. Zoltan Biro, FSCO, UNDSS NC, (biroz@un.org), Mr. Jo Hegenauer, ASC, (hegenae@unhcr.org), Ms. Olga Komarova, Database Coordinator (olga.komarova@undp.org) and Mr. Moussa Arsabiev, LSA, UNDSS RF (moussa.arsabiev@undp.org). The security clearance request should be submitted at least 2 working days before the start of the mission to ensure sufficient time for the staff member(s) to receive written approval and the timely coordination and implementation of the mobile and static security. It should be noted that a UN staff ceiling of 30 international staff members present at any given time in the North Caucasus is strictly enforced and may be the basis for the refusal to grant a security clearance. All UN staff members traveling on mission to any part of the Russian Federation (except to the Republics of the North Caucasus under a UN Security Phase) are required to provide full details of their travel including itinerary, accommodation and contact details to the UNDSS Moscow office prior to arrival in Russia. Please be advised that this country is not currently using I SECT.

SOUTH AFRICA: Capital: PRETORIA - NO PHASESouth Africa is a 'no phase' country. However, violent street crime with firearms is the prime concern affecting all UN staff in South Africa. Visitors are likely to be more vulnerable to this scourge, primarily due to lack of awareness and preparation. The latest incidents show that the province of Gauteng (Johannesburg & Pretoria) in South Africa is the worst affected, which has witnessed a notable increase in armed robberies. In most cases, the victims were driving from the airport to their homes or hotels, who were robbed in their driveways or at the hotel entrance at gunpoint. While traveling in a car or taxi, place all of your belongings in the boot (trunk) or on the floor, out of sight. Be alert. If you suspect that you are being followed, go to the nearest police station for help. All visitors and UN staff are advised to make prior arrangements about travel from airport to their places of stay and to avoid arriving at Johannesburg airport at night. Try not to change currency at airport and avoid giving out personal details, wherever possible. If you are staying in a hotel, keep your valuables locked in a safe. Do not carry your passport (your UN ID card is enough), airline ticket and excessive cash or credit cards. Do not walk around town alone and never walk at night. Use the hotel taxi service and avoid areas you are not familiar with. Avoid using your cell phone on the street. Display awareness and be vigilant at all times. For further information contact your agency in country or a UN security officer.

No security clearance is required for travel to the country. For official travel, an itinerary should be sent to Chief Security Adviser prior to departure. Please be advised that this country is not currently using ISECT.

TRINIDAD & TOBAGO: Capital: PORT OF SPAIN - NO PHASE

Port of Spain has experienced a bombing in a public area in each of the four months since July 2005 with each of them occurring approximately during the second week of each month. Based on this threat as well as the increase in criminal activity, staff members are advised to exercise increased Personal Security Awareness when in the downtown Port-of-Spain area. Staff should also avoid the Laventille, Morvant, La Horquetta, Maloney, Belmont and Fort George areas as well as any other known high-crime areas since shootings and kidnapping do occur and can affect bystanders. Only official taxis should be used. Taxis authorized to pick up passengers will have the letter "H" as the first letter of the vehicles license plate; these cars as well as those available at major hotels are considered safe. When traveling in a vehicle, it is recommended to keep the windows closed and the doors locked in order to minimize the possibility of having any valuables snatched from the wrist or packages taken from within the vehicle. In general, night travel should be avoided except when on major highways.

Trinidad and Tobago hosts some participating nations in the ICC Cricket World Cup competition which takes place between March 11 and April 28. As result, an increase in tourist presence is expected and, as such, there may be an increase in criminal activity. For the ICC World Cup competition, special visa requirements have come into effect from 01 February 2007. Additionally, some difficulty may be encountered in securing hotel reservations during this period.

Please note that the Security Adviser, Mr. Lee Peterson, is based in Caracas, Venezuela.

No Security Clearance is required for travel to the country; however, staff and/or their family members should provide their contact information to their Agency while in the duty station even when exercising personal travel. For official travel, besides of the required contact information, an itinerary should be sent to the Designated Official and LSA prior to departure. Please be advised that this country is not currently using ISECT.
